WOODROW WILSON CLASS OF 1991 SCHOLARSHIP

The Woodrow Wilson Class of 1991 is part of the long tradition of graduating classes at Woodrow whose members have made their marks in the world in a variety of pursuits, both professionally and personally. We observe that nationwide, the arts is an area that is not receiving the support in public schools that it once did, as budgets shrink and public leaders call for focus in other areas. The Class of 1991 would like to recognize Woodrow Wilson as a high school that supports the arts and award a scholarship to a student who demonstrates passion for and achievement in either the performing or visual arts.

Achievement in “performing arts” includes and is not limited to dedicated involvement in one or more of the following: music (band, orchestra, vocal performance, song writing, musical composition), dance (choreography, Ballet Folklorico, other dance performance), and drama (One Act play, musical theater, other live theater). Achievement in “visual arts” includes and is not limited to dedicated involvement in one or more of the following: drawing, painting, sculpture, ceramics, printmaking, design, photography, video, filmmaking, and architecture. Practice and involvement in the arts is not limited to school electives but may also include dedicated pursuit outside the classroom environment.

Award Amount: $1,000.00 (one year only)

Award Preferences & Specific Requirements:

- Award recipients must plan to pursue further education in the arts at a 4-year accredited university as a part of their planned coursework (not necessarily major).
- The applicant’s essay should include a component explaining how Woodrow has assisted in nurturing his or her talent and why the student wants to continue his or her training at a college level.
- At least one letter of recommendation should be written by an adult who has first-hand knowledge of and involvement with the student’s practice in his or her area of specialization.

As a leader of the Class of 1971’s reunion committee, he was the impeccably organized and enthusiastic “rock” that guided his classmates back together year after year. This award is intended to help other graduating Woodrow students do the same.

Mr. English graduated from Texas A&M University in 1946 with a degree in economics. Immediately following graduation, he showed the true spirit of entrepreneurship by establishing a new business with just one employee, himself. Since then, English Color and Paint Supply, Inc. has evolved into a distribution company with over 41 stores and 275 employees. Bob English was the 2007 finalist for the Ernst and Young Entrepreneur of the Year Award of the Southwest Area. He has served as President of the Automotive Wholesalers of Dallas and as Chairman of various committees within the Automotive Service Industry Association. He was inducted into the Woodrow Wilson High School Hall of Fame in 2009. Mr. English passed away in March 2011.

Mr. English said that he and Mrs. English decided to create a scholarship program for Woodrow graduates because the academic and social education they received at college was a luxury that they could not afford, but they were able to complete their undergraduate degrees with financial help from others. Mr. English explained that he never forgot about the extra help he received to get his higher education and therefore felt compelled to create this scholarship for those “Diamond in the Rough” Woodrow Wilson High School graduates.
